menactra vaccine is not indicated for the prevention of meningitis caused by meningococcal strains not contained in the vaccine.

90 in the American population has some sort of herpes viral infection, acquired by vector transmission, transmission at birth, or by inoculation.