a sore throat that worsens when hot liquids are swallowed is a good example of the type of throat complaint for which lachesis is considered appropriate.

of the 10,000 drugs present in the global pharmaceutical market, approximately 250 drugs are biopharmaceutical based.

the new program will require two years of pre-professional studies and the experiential education component will be increased from 22 to 40 weeks.