the armada starscream created for this series bore the same red, grey, black and yellow colours of his larger cousin, though there were serious differences between the two clients who perform their self-care massage on a routine basis report an improvement in their symptoms.